FRENCH AND INDIAN WAR

 A History of the French War, Ending in the Conquest of Canada by Rossiter Johnson With a preliminary account of the early attempts at colonization and struggles for the possession of the continent, this engaging book covers nearly every issue related to the French and Indian War. A chronological review of the leading players, forts, massacres, and sieges with fine detail included. (1882), 2005, 5½x8½, paper, indices, 408 pp. J1464 - $31.50	 True Stories of New England Captives Carried to Canada During the Old French and Indian Wars by C. Alice Baker Recounts in detail the Indian attacks at Wells and York, Maine, Dover, New Hampshire, and Hatfield, Haverhill, and Deerfield, Massachusetts. Focuses on a few of the participants with extensive genealogical and biographical data. (1896), 2004, 5½x8½, paper, index, illus., 420 pp. B0420 - $34.00	 The Fight with France for North America (3rd edition) by A. G. Bradley Beginning with the Treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle, and the conditions and characteristics of the British-American colonies in Canada in 1750, the author lays the background for the French designs against British expansion. He then proceeds to describe the various clashes between the two European powers in America. (1908), reprint, paper, index, 391 pp. B2331 - $31.50
 Two Flags in the Wilderness by Greg Yocherer An historical novel that begins in 1731 when Jean Baptiste Joubert, a cadet in the colonial marines, is assigned to a convoy sent from Fort Michilimackinac to reestablish trade with the Sioux, trade which had been disrupted by war with the Fox. The action moves from the Illinois Country to New Orleans, and from there to Montreal and Albany. The scene shifts back to the Great Lakes region for a final confrontation between French allied forces and the Fox. Ambush, intrigue and espionage are all employed, differentiating friend from foe is a challenge. (2002), 5½x8½, paper, 399 pp. Y2143 - $21.95	 War, Hell and Honor: A Novel of the French and Indian War by Brenton C. Kemmer The most authentic, most exciting and most realistic military novel of the new millennium! Get your copy now and relive the Battle of Lake George on the New York frontier in 1755. Follow Charles Nurse as he volunteers for service and makes his way to Lake George. On your way you will witness Gen. William Johnson's Indian councils, the daily life of the army and the hell of colonial warfare. Then after the battle, join Charles on several hair-raising scouting forays with the famous Robert Rogers and Israel Putnam. (2001), 5½x8½, paper, 171 pp. K1875 - $14.95	 The Partisans: Second in a Series of Novels of the French and Indian War by Brenton C. Kemmer 1756: Volunteering for the winter garrison of Fort William Henry, Charles Nurse's patriotic duties drove him to protect the colonial frontiers from England's enemies. Charles spends much of his time fighting alongside Captain Robert Rogers and the men of his ranger companies. After two years of warfare, will Charles return home to his family and love? He becomes a Partisan and brings the war to the French and their Indians. (2004), 5½x8½, paper, 108 pp. K2535 - $15.95
 Washington's Expeditions (1753-1754) and Braddock's Expedition (1755), with a history of Tom Fausett, the slayer of General Edward Braddock by James Hadden Crucial expeditions during a time of great struggle to decide whether America was to be an appendage of France or the land of an English-speaking people. (1910), 2004, 5½ x 8½, paper, index, illus., 180 pp. H2337 - $21.00	 Christopher Gist's Journals by William M. Darlington With colorful, historical, geographical and ethnological notes and biographies of Christopher Gist's contemporaries, this work is an indispensable resource for colonial history scholars and for living historians interested in pre-Revolutionary War America and the issues that faced colonists and others living at that time. (1893), 2005, index, maps, 299 pp. D2277 - $26.00	 La Marine: The French Colonial Soldier in Canada, 1745-1761 by Andrew Gallup and Donald F. Shaffer Covers the equipment, daily life, and military service of the French colonial soldier in Canada during the final French and Indian War, including the fact that the soldier was then expected to become a colonist. (1992), 2004, 5½x8½, paper, index, bibliography, x+274 pp. G0711 - $26.50

 Relief is Greatly Wanted: The Battle of Fort William Henry by Edward J. Dodge Eyewitness accounts of the siege are supplemented with excerpts from Kilby's Journal, Maj. William Eyre's Report and Monro-Webb correspondence. Enriched with biographical sketches of the leading officers of both sides, a muster roll of Rogers' Rangers, documents pertaining to the 35th Regiment of Foot (Monro's regiment) and the Monro documents. (1998), 2005, 5½x8½, paper, index, illus., maps, 206 pp. D0932 - $22.00	 Freemen, Freeholders, and Citizen Soldiers: An Organizational History of Colonel Jonathan Bagley's Regiment, 1755-1760 by Brenton C. Kemmer A very detailed account of Lt. Col. Jonathan Bagley's regiment of Massachusetts provincials who decisively held their own against multiple military thrusts from the French around Crown Point as well as Ticonderoga, and helped win the only English victory in North America in 1755. (1997), 2004, 5½x8½, paper, index, appendices, bibliography, illustrations, maps, 138 pp. K0620 - $16.00	 French and Indian War Battlesites: A Controversy by Bob Bearor "Bob Bearor has combined his deep love of North America's heritage with extensive real world research to create this easily read book. I highly recommend it as a thoroughly enjoyable and valuable contribution to our understanding of this critical period in the forming of our nation." - George C. Neumann, author, Collector's Illustrated Encyclopedia of the American Revolution. (2000), 2005, 5½x8½, paper, bibliography, illustrations, maps, indices, c120 pp. B1475 - $17.50
 The Battle on Snowshoes by Bob Bearor A new history of this famous event, as told by an experienced Adirondack hunting guide and re-enactor who trekked over the sites in period clothing and equipment to substantiate the times and conditions recorded in contemporary journal entries. In doing this, Bob Bearor was able to separate fact from fiction. (1997), 2004, 5½x8½, paper, index, illus., maps, 120 pp. B0619 - $17.50	 The Battle on Snowshoes Video by Dave Bannon and Colin Bannon On 10 March 1758, Robert Rogers led 181 Rangers on a scout toward French-held Fort Carillon. En route, they were ambushed and the vicious battle that occurred was one of the most devastating primitive winter conflicts fought in colonial North America. Only 54 men returned. The battle was known as the "Battle on Snowshoes." This thrilling and informative documentary film includes reenactments and interviews with historians. (VHS, 30 minutes.) BVHS01 - $19.95	 Redcoats, Yankees, and Allies: A History of the Uniforms, Clothing, and Gear of the British Army by Brenton C. Kemmer Illustrated by Joe Lee. The vital Lake George-Lake Champlain corridor is the geographical setting of this study of the uniforms, clothing and battle gear of British and Yankee soldiers and their Native American allies during the French & Indian War. (1998), 2004, 5½x8½, paper, index, gloss., 168 pp. K0905 - $18.50
 Leading by Example, Partisan Fighters & Leaders of New France, 1660-1760: Volume One by Bob Bearor Out of the Canadian wilderness, rugged leaders defended New France from Britain as those two countries struggled for control of North America. In this new series, two great partisan leaders, Jacques LeMoyne de Ste. Hélène and Charles-Michel de Langlade, seem to take on flesh and blood and their heroic deeds shine with adventure and courage during the French and Indian War. (2002), 2004, 5½x8½, paper, index, pictures, illustrations, 99 pp. B2068 - $15.00	 Leading by Example, Partisan Fighters & Leaders of New France, 1660-1760: Volume Two by Bob Bearor Volume two of this great work covers the mostly forgotten partisan leaders of New France during the French and Indian War: Daniel Greysolon DuLuth, Madeleine Vercheres, St. Luc de la Corne, Daniel Beaujeu and Jean-Daniel Dumas. Their fighters quickly adopted North American Indian tactics and became masters of "la petite guerre." and includes a brief chapter on native foods discovered and utilized for wilderness survival. (2003), 5½x8½, paper, index, illustrations, 134 pp. B2348 - $18.00	 Leading by Example, Partisan Fighters & Leaders of New France, 1660-1760: Volume Three by Bob Bearor The third and final book in the 'Leading by Example' trilogy we learn of the exploits of Nicolas D'Allieiboust de Manthet who, in the late seventeenth century, routed Iroquois warriors at the Lake of Two Mountains. In addition, he helped to mount an attack on Albany, and led punitive raids against the Mohawk natives. Robust and detailed. (2004), 5½x8½, paper, index, 218 pp. B2514 - $25.00

 Louisbourg Journals, 1745 by Louis Effingham DeForest The capture of Louisbourg in 1745 was the American Colonists' most important military achievement prior to the Revolution. This work presents previously unpublished journals of actual participants in this important expedition and other highly valuable documents. The ten first-hand accounts supply intriguing narratives of the siege and capture. (1932), 2004, 5½x8½, paper, index, bibliography, illustrations, maps, 292 pp. D1015 - $26.50	 The Conspiracy of Pontiac and the Indian War After the Conquest of Canada by Francis Parkman Destined to melt and vanish before the advancing waves of Anglo-American power, the Indians of North America saw the danger, and, led by a great and daring champion, struggled fiercely to avert it. Parkman describes the various tribes, the effect of the advance of French and English colonization, the interrelationships and rivalries, and the wilderness environment. This classic and comprehensive study examines the catalysts, personalities, places, battles and consequences of Pontiac's War. (2003), paper, index, 2 vols. P2309 - $38.95	 Braddock Road Chronicles, 1755 by Andrew J. Wahll From the diaries and records of members of the Braddock Expedition and others: this work is arranged in a day-by-day chronology. The making of the Braddock Road was an engineering marvel that tested the abilities and endurance of builders and marked history in the French and Indian War. This work details forts, personnel, food, Indians, clothing, lodging and more. (1999), 5½x8½, paper, illus., maps, 489 pp. W1205 - $42.00
 Robert Rogers' Rules for the Ranging Service: An Analysis by Matt Wulff Major Robert Rogers of the famous Rogers' Rangers wrote the Rules for the Ranging Service in 1757 to instruct selected members of the regular British Army in the techniques of "woods warfare" in North America: ambush, attack, pursuit, retreat, and other tactics. Analysis, maps, diagrams, and photographs add visual dimension to the descriptions. Several types of eighteenth-century muskets are pictured and described in the appendix (2006), 5½x8½, paper, index, 272 pp. W3376 - $30.50	 The Massacre of Dunbar, October 15, 1759 by Gary Zaboly This masterful full-color print depicts the tragic panorama of Dunbar's Massacre in remarkable detail. The landscape was described to the artist by the author after personally observing the site. (Full-color print, 12x18, unframed) These prints are shipped in a map tube. See order form. A4041 - $15.00	 The History of Rogers' Rangers: Volume I: The Beginnings, January 1755-April 6, 1758 by Burt Garfield Loescher This rare 1946 classic is based chiefly on the Loudoun Manuscripts: the key to the beginning of Rogers' Rangers, the elite military unit that set the standards for future special forces. Vol. I covers the years in which Ranger activities reached their height during the French & Indian War. Absolutely essential for every Ranger enthusiast! (1946), 2006, 5½x8½, paper, 438 pp. L4295 - $36.00
 Genesis: Rogers' Rangers, The First Green Berets by Burt Garfield Loescher Offers the complete record of every action, ambush, scout and expedition of Major Robert Rogers and his Rangers from April 6, 1758 (just after their defeat in the Battle on Snowshoes during the French & Indian War), to their disbandment on December 24, 1783, at the end of the American Revolution. (1969), 2000, 5½x8½, cloth, appends., illus., maps, ix+311 pp. L1575 - $37.00	 The History of Rogers' Rangers, Volume 3: Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers by Burt Garfield Loescher Biographical sketches of more than 200 Rangers, including the legendary Robert Rogers himself, John Stark, the Brewers, Moses Hazen, the Stockbridge Mohegans, and lesser-known men of all ranks including surgeons, clerks, cadets, and corporals, some of whom served in the French and Indian War and later in the American Revolution as well. (1957), 2001, 6x9, cloth, index, illustrations, 86 pp. L1967 - $20.00	 The History of Rogers' Rangers: Volume 4: The St. Francis Raid by Burt Garfield Loescher The long-awaited chronicle of this tragic and infamous event, 1759, that reveals new insights to the St. Francis Raid, including why some have said the Rangers were "cursed" for destroying and desecrating the mission (2002), 6x9, cloth, appendices, bibliography, illustrations, maps, and more. 300 pp. L2077 - $37.50

 French and Indian War Notices Abstracted from Colonial Newspapers, Volume 1: 1754-1755 by Armand Francis Lucier This compendium of articles concerns the first two years of the French and Indian War, as reported in accounts from different newspapers published in Britain's North American colonies and Europe. The text is infused with the anxiety of a nation at war, allowing a unique perspective on a seminal event in the course of American history. No attempt has been made to correct spelling, punctuation or presentation. (1999), 2007, 5½x8½, paper, index, 370 pp. L1085 - $31.50	 French and Indian War Notices Abstracted from Colonial Newspapers, Volume 2: 1756-1757 by Armand Francis Lucier Experience the French and Indian War through weekly newspaper reports from events of 1756 and 1757. Lists events such as the fall of Forts Oswego and William Henry, along with Robert Rogers and his Rangers in their expeditions around Ticonderoga. Exact articles with rumors, facts, unconfirmed reports, extracts of private letters, descriptions of forts, settlements, and troop movements. (1999), 2007, 5½x8½, paper, index, 366 pp. L1219 - $32.00	 French and Indian War Notices Abstracted from Colonial Newspapers, Volume 3: 1758-1759 by Armand Francis Lucier Abercrombie's humiliating defeat at Ticonderoga in 1758 was the last straw for the beleaguered British Army who resolved to replace their inept, politically appointed commanders with reputable generals. Articles presented as originally published: facts, rumors, exaggerations, unconfirmed reports and falsehoods. Includes 19th-century battle maps of Ticonderoga, Louisbourg, and Quebec. (1999), 5½x8½, paper, index, maps, 359 pp. L1303 - $31.50
 French and Indian War Notices Abstracted from Colonial Newspapers, Volume 4: September 17, 1759 to December 30, 1760 by Armand Francis Lucier Packed full of action and drama: soldiers march, ships sail, guns roar, generals fall, villages burn and scalping knives drip with gore. These unaltered newspaper articles consist of letters, reports and a few exaggerations flowing from printing presses to the general public. (1999), 5½x8½, paper, index, map, 308 pp. L1378 - $28.00	 French and Indian War Aftermath: Notices Abstracted from Colonial Newspapers, Volume 5 by Armand Francis Lucier By 1760, the capitulation of Canada by the French and Canadians all but ended the French & Indian War. Blockaded by the powerful British Navy, the people of New France might have been lacking in provisions, but certainly not in fighting spirit. Descriptions of the efforts against British attempts to retake Montreal and Louisbourg. (2000), 5½x8½, paper, indices, map, 361 pp. L1535 - $31.50	 The Black Watch at Ticonderoga and Major Duncan Campbell of Inverawe (New York) by Frederick B. Richards The Black Watch Regiment gained fame for its fearless charge during Maj. Gen. James Abercrombie's futile attack on Ticonderoga, 1758. More than half of the 1000 Highlanders were killed or seriously wounded in one of the most dramatic battles of the French and Indian War. This work gives an extensive history of the Black Watch Regiment from 1667. (1911), 2005, 5½x8½, paper, illus., map, 132 pp. R1106 - $16.00
 Pontiac's Conspiracy & Other Indian Affairs: Notices Abstracted from Colonial Newspapers, 1763-1765 by Armand Francis Lucier Contemporary accounts of tumultuous times as the French and English struggled for control in the Ohio Valley and Indian tribes found themselves displaced by new settlers until Pontiac organized a bloody Indian uprising, capturing nine frontier forts in 15 days. (2000), paper, index, illus., 322 pp. L1460 - $27.50	 A Particular History of the Five Years French and Indian War by Samuel G. Drake Detailing the fourth of the five Indian wars which began in 1688 and extended down to the fall of Quebec. Fought all along the English frontier but especially in New England, this work covers major events and details of numerous minor skirmishes in which at least 1,000 were killed or carried into captivity. (1870), 2004, 5½x8½, paper, index, illus., 312 pp. D0294 - $27.50	 The Céloron Expedition to the Ohio Country, 1749: The Reports of Pierre-Joseph Céloron and Father Bonnecamps by Andrew Gallup Céloron wrote of how he dealt with the Native Americans and conducted his assignment to oust the English. Bonnecamps detailed the flora, fauna and other aspects of natural science, as well as activities of the expedition. (1997), 5½x8½, paper, index, maps, 100 pp. G0606 - $14.50

 New England Captives Carried to Canada Between 1677 and 1760 During the French and Indian Wars by Emma Lewis Coleman This work provides an extensive picture of the Indian attacks on New England communities over about an eighty-year period, and in terms of identifying their captives, it is probably the most definitive work ever published. There is a complete name index (1926), 2005, 5½x8½, paper, index, one volume in two, 890 pp. C0257 - $60.00	 Reminiscences of the French War with Robert Rogers' Journal and a Memoir of General Stark by Luther Roby, ed. Robert Rogers achieved lasting fame as the fearless leader of his intrepid Rangers in the French and Indian Wars. General Stark served with distinction in Roger's Rangers and advanced to the rank of General in the American Revolution. (1831), 2005, 5½x8½, paper, illus., maps, 368 pp. R9003 - $28.50	 Memoir of a French and Indian War Soldier by "Jolicoeur" Charles Bonin, edited by Andrew Gallup This memoir is unique. It is not only a first-person account of the French and Indian War, a scarce commodity, but it is also the work of a common soldier, rarer still. Charles Bonin's story reads as if the reader were sharing wine with the old veteran in a Paris cafe. (1993), 2005, 5½x8½, paper, indices, maps, xiv+240 pp. G0872 - $25.00
 Manuscript Records of the French and Indian War in the Library of the American Antiquarian Society by Charles Henry Lincoln The American Antiquarian Society inventoried its holdings on the French and Indian War and published its findings in one easy-to-use volume. (1909), 1992, 5½x8½, paper, index, illus., 267 pp. L0739 - $23.50	 New France and New England by John Fiske "It is my purpose...to deal with the rise and fall of New France, and the development of the English colonies as influenced by the prolonged struggle with that troublesome and dangerous neighbour." Here, find a comprehensive history, including a thorough list of the people and events leading up to the French and Indian War. (1902), 2005, 5½x8½, paper, index, 428 pp. F0650 - $33.00	 Studies of the Niagara Frontier by Frank H. Severance What distinguishes this book from most regional histories is the compilation of literary narratives from various early visitors, giving it an artistic vitality. The first third of this extensive volume is the Niagara region as seen through the eyes of poets, writers and artists, followed by next scientists, geographers and geologists. (1911), reprint, 5½x8½, paper, indices, illustrations, 437 pp. S0845 - $33.00
 Virginia and the French and Indian War by Hayes Baker-Crothers, Ph.D. When hostilities flared between the British and French inhabitants of North America in the 1750s, the Virginia Colony and the Ohio Trading Company took center stage in the events that would later be remembered as the French and Indian War. Without funds, supplies, experienced military leadership, or even a motivated body of men willing to defend their homes, the Virginia Colony struggled desperately to protect its western frontier from Indian incursions and partisan raids meant to wipe out the English. (1928), 2006, 5½x8½, paper, indices, 190 pp. B1004 - $18.50	 Quaint and Historic Forts of North America by John Martin Hammond Sure to become one of your favorites, this engaging volume describes the history of nearly fifty famous fortifications, from the heights of Quebec to the western frontier. Lavishly illustrated with seventy-one photographs and illustrations, this book devotes an entire chapter to each fort's unique history. Many forts changed possession several times. Here we learn what finally became of them, whether they were completely destroyed in battle, slowly decayed by the elements, reconstructed by enthusiasts or preserved for posterity by historians (1915), 2005, 5½x8½, paper, index, 434 pp. H0834 - $32.00	 The Unwritten History of Braddock's Field (Pennsylvania) by George H. Lamb Known simply as Braddock, this little town just outside of Pittsburgh has been the scene of many historic events, including General Edward Braddock's famous defeat by the British in 1755, at the beginning of the French and Indian War. Thirty-nine years later, several thousand grain distillers and sympathizers gathered at Braddock's Field to protest the new tax on whiskey, in what became known as the Whiskey Rebellion, which was quelled when President Washington called up 15,000 troops to march toward the town. (1917), 1999, 5½x8½, paper, index, 336 pp. L1237 - $26.50

 Amherst Papers 1756-1763. The Southern Sector: Dispatches from South Carolina, Virginia and His Majesty's Superintendent of Indian Affairs by Edith Mays Jeffrey Amherst was Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's Forces in North America during the French and Indian War. Documents are located in the British Public Records Office as "W.O. 34: General Sir Jeffrey Amherst 1712-1784 (47-48)." Microfilms of these records have been transcribed, arranged in chronological order and indexed in this book -- a fine resource for genealogists and students of the French and Indian War. (1999), 2006, 5½x8½, paper, indices, 418 pp. M1131 - $35.00	 Correspondence of William Shirley, Governor of Massachusetts and Military Commander of America, 1731-1760 by Charles Henry Lincoln, Ph.D., ed. Nearly 450 primary documents relating to both the Five Years' French and Indian War (1744-1749), aka Governor Shirley's War, and the more important Seven Years' French and Indian War, 1755-1763: Shirley's early political appointments, building of forts on the frontier, defense of Nova Scotia, the expedition against Louisbourg, and more. Fold-out maps and profuse annotations, these volumes constitute essential reading for greater understanding. (1912), reprint, 5½x8½, paper, index, maps, 2 vols., 509 + 621 pp. L2340 - $86.50	 The Capture of Ticonderoga by L. E. Chittenden The essence of this thesis is whether or not Benedict Arnold planned and participated in the capture of Ticonderoga, or whether the honor belongs solely to Ethan Allen and his Green Mountain Boys. This nice little volume incorporates a paper which was read before the Vermont Historical Society at a special meeting of its members in 1872. Well annotated, it also includes helpful information in the appendix. (1872), reprint, 5 ½ x 8 ½, paper, 127 pp. C0802 - $15.00
 The French Regime in Wisconsin and the Northwest by Louise Phelps Kellogg Every student of eighteenth century American history should have a copy of this book. This remarkable resource is a publication of the renowned State Historical Society of Wisconsin. Anchored by the military accomplishments of John Stark, this book also details the careers of several other heroes of both wars. (1877), 2007, 5½x8½, paper, indices, 528 pp. S1088 - $38.50
 Fort Ontario: 250 Years of History, 1755-2005 by George A. Reed The old fort was first constructed in 1755 to protect the fur trading settlement at Oswego. It overlooked the Oswego River, the main route west in colonial times. For 250 years, Fort Ontario has sat on a hill overlooking the city of Oswego. Illustrations, photographs, a bibliography, and two appendices enhance the text. (2007), 5½x8½, paper, 142 pp. R3812 - $25.50	 The Virginia Frontier, 1754-1763 by Louis K. Koontz, Ph.D. This work provides a history of the Virginia frontier during the French and Indian War. At that time, Virginia's frontier extended from the vicinity of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, south to the Carolina border. In addition to the topography of the area, this extensive work includes Indian trails and migration routes.
